Potential Mold and Heating and Cooling Efficiency

Is there the potential for mold growth in your attic? If you aren't sure, call One Stop Home Repair for a free attic inspection through August and September. A lot of homes, even newer ones, could have been built without proper attic ventilation and insulation.

Summer is the perfect time to install a heat pump. The air conditioner function makes energy savings immediate. Once colder temperatures hit, the energy savings increase as you save on heating costs. These savings, including the following, pay you back within an average of 5 year, installation discounts from Efficiency of Maine and One Stop Home Repair, special electrical bill rates offered by Emera Maine, and substantial savings on heat costs due to not having to run your furnace continually.

Call now for peace of mind around your attic insulation and ventilation and ways to achieve a more energy efficient home. One Stop Home Repair is offering a free attic inspection that includes an assessment to determine the right heat pump for your home.

Meet the Crew – Robert Gerrish

Robert (Bob) Gerrish joined our crew in July of 2015. He lives in Brewer with his wife and his black lab, Hero.

Bob is a high-end painter with 18 years of experience. Prior to working at One Stop Home Repair, he worked for another local painting company. Bob is EPA lead paint certified.

If you are looking for some painting there is no doubt you will run into Bob.

In his spare time Bob enjoys fishing, hunting, snowmobiling, spending time with his wife and black lab. He is also a huge fan of The Patriots, and likes to watch them play with his friends.

Bob strives to make customers happy. He is most satisfied when his customers are satisfied.

Radiant Barrier reduces your energy costs! During the summer, 97% of radiant heat is kept out. During the winter, 97% of rising heat is reflected back into your home.

August Checklist

Keep the summer heat outside by making sure your windows are sealed properly.

Pressure-wash your siding, especially prior to painting to remove grime, stains and dirt.

Cut dead hanging tree limbs and prune any plants that are growing too close to the house.
